REJECTIONS UNDER 35 U.S.C. § 102

Claims 27-49 and 52-76 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as allegedly being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,226,360 to Goldberg et al. ("Goldberg"), and U.S. Patent

No. 6,269,151 to Hanson [Office Action, pg. 2, ¶2]. Applicants disagree with the propriety of each of the rejections. However, independent claims 27 and 54 have been amended solely in an effort to expedite prosecution.

In particular, independent claim 27 recites, inter alia, the features of:

service subscription means for enabling at least one subscriber to subscribe to at least one service that can output personalized information, and for enabling the at least one user to specify preferences for the content and presentation of service output information, as well as delivery parameters for receiving service output information, the delivery parameters including at least one device to which service output information is to be delivered, and delivery instructions based on a detected recipient;

Independent claim 54 similarly recites:

enabling at least one subscriber to subscribe to at least one service that can output personalized information, and to specify preferences for the content and presentation of service output information, as well as delivery parameters for receiving service output information, the delivery parameters including at least one device to which service output information is to be delivered, and delivery instructions based on a detected recipient;

Neither Goldberg nor Hanson disclose the foregoing features associated with subscription. For at least this reason, independent claims 27 and 54 are patentable over Goldberg and Hanson, and the rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) are improper and should be withdrawn. Dependent claims 28-38, 40-51, 55-65, and 67-78 are allowable because they each depend from an allowable independent claim, as well as for the further features they recite.

CONCLUSION

Having addressed each of the foregoing rejections, it is respectfully submitted that a full and complete response has been made to the outstanding Office Action and, as such, the application is in condition for allowance. Notice to that effect is respectfully requested.

If the Examiner believes, for any reason, that personal communication will expedite prosecution of this application, the Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned at the number provided.
